Women in Black (WIB) is an international movement of women who stand in silent vigil against violence and militarism in their own countries, and also in solidarity with women around the world. We can't organize or attend a march or rally everyday to protest war and violence. But we can stand in silence with our messages of peace once a week.

For more information about the WIB movement, go to <http://www.womeninblack.org/history.html>.

Do not bring signs or posters. Organizers of the vigil will bring signs and leaflets. All you have to do is come dressed all in black. For one hour, we'll stand in silent witness and solidarity for a world of peace and justice.
